Weather in Arkhangai Province: Late July and Early August & Packing Essentials

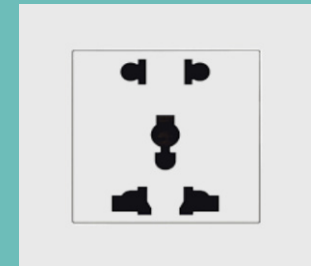

In Arkhangai Province, the weather in late July and early August is typically very pleasant and mild, making it the ideal time for travel. It's not too hot during the day and not too cold at night. Daytime temperatures generally range from +18°C to +25°C, while nights can cool down to +5°C to +15°C.

Therefore, it's essential to pack warm clothing, especially windproof items. There's a possibility of rain during late July and early August, so rainproof clothing is also important. Due to Mongolia's relatively high altitude, you might experience all four seasons in a single day.

When preparing for your trip, don't forget to pack comfortable shoes, a windproof or rain jacket, sunscreen with SPF 30-50, and any other personal hygiene items you might need.

Electric plugs

The electric socket in Mongolia is 220V and mostly two thick or sometimes thin rounded pins. As there is not a standard plug fitting in Mongolia, you might find different sockets, so bringing a multi-pin adapter is essential.

Currency

Mongolia's national currency is the Tugrug (MNT or ₮). As of the 7th of this month, one US dollar is approximately 3450 MNT. The most suitable foreign currencies for exchange are the US Dollar (USD), Euro (EUR), and Japanese Yen (JPY). If you're bringing US dollars, please make sure the banknotes were printed after 1996 (the ones with the large heads, not the small ones).

While most credit/Mastercard/Visa cards are accepted in Ulaanbaatar, we highly recommend carrying a small amount of local cash. You can exchange cash at the airport.
